

Following retirement in 2006, Steve joined Progress Energy in St Petersburg, FL. He relocated to Charlotte, NC in 2012 following Progress Energy's merger with Duke Energy, where he and Debbie now reside. Steve has worked in several different areas of the company, and is currently a senior leader in the Environmental, Health and Safety department.

Steve and Debbie were married in 1982, and have one daughter, Rachael, who also lives in Charlotte."

The photo was taken in St Petersburg, Russia during a recent cruise vacation to the Baltic region. Still hard to believe that after a career fighting the Cold War, that I could actually visit Russia as a tourist! How things change over time!

All the best, Steve
